Office Hours: (Zoom) Tuesdays and Thursdays 2:00pm-3:30pm

Course Objectives:

This course explores topics that are relevant to understand the causes and implications of economic development. We will start by analyzing the concepts of poverty, inequality, well-being, and economic growth. Then, we will study how individuals make decisions, considering the institutional and economic features present in developing countries. We will discuss topics such as health, education, credit, social programs and policies targeted at the poor. The main topics of the courses will be covered by the required textbook listed below, as well as journal articles, and additional materials discussed in class. For the midterms you are expected to be ready to answer questions on all the material covered in the course, including topics discussed in lectures and assignments (even when the material is not covered by the main textbook).

Prerequisites:

The course prerequisites are Principles of Microeconomics (ECO 2013), Principles of Macroeconomics (ECO 2023), and Intermediate Microeconomics (ECO 3101). The course content will also draw heavily on material contained in MAC 2233 (or higher). If you have not successfully completed this course, you should familiarize yourself with the related sections of Margaret Lial, Raymond Greenwell, and Nathan Ritchey's Calculus with Applications. If you have any questions on this matter, I will be happy to guide you during my office hours.

Readings

The readings of this course will include a main required textbook that will cover most of the topics, as well as complementary readings and journal articles.

Main Textbook (required):

Julie Schaffner, "Development Economics: Theory, Empirical Research and Policy Analysis", John Wiley and Sons, Inc., 2014.

Other Suggested Book:

Abhijit Banerjee and Esther Duflo, "Poor Economics: A Radical Rethinking of the Way to Fight Global Poverty", Public Affairs, 2011.

Course Delivery, Lectures and Course Communication:

The course will be held asynchronously online. The lectures will be recorded and organized into videos. I will share the links to the videos on Canvas. The lectures will be posted to Canvas on Tuesdays and Thursdays, following the course schedule. You are strongly encouraged to watch each lecture in a timely fashion (i.e., within 1 day of each being posted). As in all courses, unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

While this course is delivered online, there will be some synchronous activities, such as midterms. Midterms will take place synchronously during our assigned class time on the dates listed below. In addition, this course is paired with another section that will be partially taught face-to-face (and partially held asynchronously online). You are welcome to virtually attend the lectures in which I will be teaching face-to-face synchronously (via Zoom). A schedule of the lectures in which I will be teaching face-to-face and that you can virtually attend synchronously can be found in the course website (as well as the link to join these sessions).

Announcements concerning the class will typically be made in lecture videos, UF emails, and through Canvas. You are responsible for all information made available through these avenues of communication (you are expected to check your UF email and Canvas daily).

Grading:

Grading will be based on two (non-cumulative) online midterm exams and 4 problem sets. Each of these components will have the following weight in your final grade:

	Date	% in the final grade
Midterm 1	March 4 at 9:35 AM (Eastern Standard Time zone)	40%
Midterm 2	April 20 at 9:35 AM (Eastern Standard Time zone)	45%
Problem Sets	See Schedule	15%

Midterms

There will be two (non-cummulative) midterms. The exams will be closed book/closed note exams administered online in Canvas using the Honor Lock proctoring service. All exams will take place synchronously (i.e., at the same time) during our assigned class time. The fist midterm will take place on Thursday March 4 at 9:35 AM (Eastern Standard Time zone) and the second midterm will take place on Tuesday, April 20 9:35 AM (Eastern Standard Time zone). The first midterm accounts for 40% of your final grade, and the second midterm accounts for 45% of your grade.

Make-up exams will be offered only on those circumstances in which you cannot take an exam for a valid reason according to UF policy, for example, illness (see UF policy on this). In that case, you should notify me prior to the start of the exam. In addition, you will need to provide valid documentation (within a week of your absence) justifying your absence. Supporting documentation related to excuses for missed exams must include contact information for verification purposes. Failure to comply with these rules will result in a zero score in the missed exam. Providing false documentation or creating a false excuse constitutes cheating under the University guidelines. UF's policy on academic honesty will be strongly enforced.

Problem Sets

Problem sets account for 15% of your final grade. There will be four problem sets over the semester. The weekly schedule contains tentative problem set due dates (Eastern Standard Time). All assignments are due on Canvas before the deadline on the due date. Late submissions will not be accepted and will receive zero credit. As a general advice, make sure to submit your assignment at least several hours before the due date/time. In addition, after submitting your problem set through Canvas, make sure your submission is correct and contains all pages. If necessary, you will be able to replace your initial submission with an updated version before the deadline. You are responsible for verifying that any online assignment submission has properly been submitted through Canvas. Your lowest problem set grade will be dropped.

Grading Scale

The following scale will be used to determine your final letter grade:

A	93 - 100
A-	90 - 92.99
B+	87 - 89.99
B	83 - 86.99
B-	80 - 82.99
C+	77 - 79.99
C	73 - 76.99
C-	70 - 72.99
D+	67 - 69.99
D	60 - 66.99
E	0 - 59.99

You can find information on current UF grading policies for assigning grade points here: <https://catalog.ufl.edu/UGRD/academic-regulations/grades-grading-policies/>

Academic Honesty:

I will strongly enforce the University of Florida's rules for academic honesty (which can be found here). Any violation of these rules will be prosecuted to the fullest extent. Examples of violations include, but are not limited to, cheating on exams or homework assignments and creating a false excuse to take a make-up exam.

Students with Disabilities:

Students with disabilities requesting classroom accommodation must first register with the Disability Resource Center (DRC). Once registered, The DRC will provide documentation to the student who must then provide this documentation to the instructor when requesting accommodation. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester.

University Disclaimer for Recorded Lectures

Our class sessions may be audio visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the “chat” feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

Computer Access

The University requires access to and on-going use of a computer. This should not be a tablet device or smartphone, but an actual desktop or laptop computer. To succeed in this course, you will also need a stable internet connection and appropriate space to take online exams using the Honor Lock proctoring service. Minimum equipment specifications are available at: <https://it.ufl.edu/policies/student-computing-requirements/>

Course Evaluation

Students are expected to provide professional and respectful feedback on the quality of instruction in this course by completing course evaluations online via GatorEvals. Students will be notified when the evaluation period opens, and can complete evaluations through the email they receive from GatorEvals, in their Canvas course menu under GatorEvals, or via ufl.bluera.com/ufl/. Summaries of course evaluation results are available to students here.
